QUEEN OF PENNEY'S OPENING — Mrs. Margaret Clarkson was named queen of the first day's activities as J. C. Penney opened its new store at Jefferson Ave. and Broadway yesterday. Helping her celebrate is John Fitz Randolph, advertising manager for the entire Penney chain who came to the Redwood City opening. The recently completed block-long building in which Penney's is located was designed by Architect Lloyd A. Gartner of San Francisco.

200 Throng Sidewalk Here For Penney Store Opening

Redwood City's new J. C. Penney store at Broadway and Jefferson Ave. opened yesterday Some 200 persons thronged the sidewalk in front of the establishment while Charles W. Coy, manager, introduced guests of honor.

Among them was Charles Nelson who brought the first Penney store to Redwood City 20 years ago. Although he retired three years ago, Nelson returned to active duty yesterday as floor supervisor and made one of the first sales in the new retail outlet.

Other guests were Mayor W. M. Werder, who welcomed the establishment on behalf of the community; Myron Evans Harman, president of the Chamber of Commerce and E. W. Butler, executive vice president; William Ayer, one of the owners of the new building in which the store is located; John A. Fitz Randolph, in charge of retail advertising for the Penney organization; W. L. Marshall, West Coast zone manager for the company; J. C. Pyle and L. T. Gease from the district office.

Mrs. Margaret Clarkson of Redwood City, nominated by her fellow Penney employes for the honor, was named "queen of the day" and given the privilege of cutting the yellow ribbon which opened the store to its public.

Less interested in ceremony than in merchandise, scores of women first through the doors swarmed on the counter offering low-priced cotton dresses.

A 45-Yr. Dream Takes Shape: Eagles Start Bldg. Project

Nearly half a century of planning culminated in triumph last Sunday when Redwood City Aerie 418, Fraternal Order of Eagles, broke ground for its $45,000 meeting hall on Liguori St., near Chestnut.

The Eagles, who have been without a home of their own since the group was founded in 1903, hope to move into their new quarters in approximately three months. The hall is being built on land donated by Past Pres. O. S. Oleson.

The Eagles have met in only three buildings since Aerie 418 was instituted: Alhambra Theater, Foresters Hall and Odd Fellows Hall.

Aerie 418 was instituted on June 28, 1903, in the Alhambra Theater, same site as the present Masonic Hall, with 52 charter members. The present membership is 727.

Of the members initiated during the year 1903, the following six are still on the rolls: Past Pres. George C. Christ, George A. Genochio, George H. Hansen, William G. Kelting, George W. McNulty and Treas. Ernest H. Werder. There have been 38 presidents, four secretaries: George Winter, Carl K. Mabie, Paul E. Lowe and W. Clifford Clarke, and two treasurers: M. J. A. Spoerl and Ernest H. Werder.

Locally, the Eagles are known as a patriotic, fraternal and civic organization. During the first World War, nine members of the Redwood City Eagles were in service, and during the last war, 74 members were in the service of their country. Their civic activities have included sponsorship of the Clean-up Campaign in 1938; civilian fingerprinting; assisting in Red Cross and Community Chest campaigns, and general endorsement of school and public improvements, Pres. Vincent DeBella said.

$4000 Cafe Blaze At Millbrae

Fire, starting from an electrical short in a neon sign, caused $4000 damage at the "Remember Me?" Cafe, El Camino Real and Silva Ave., Millbrae, Wednesday night.

No one was injured.

The blaze was confined to the roof and upstairs floor of the wood and stucco building.

Fifteen Millbrae firemen, led by their chief, Lester Pallas, fought the fire for 20 minutes before bringing it under control, then spent another 90 minutes dousing smouldering embers.

New Chain Store May Be Built Here

Redwood City in the near future may be the site of a new chain store outlet.

Kenneth Hall of Fox & Carskadon, real estate agency, this week asked the city planning commission if the city were definite in its plans to cut Franklin St. through Butcher Field from Jefferson Ave to James Ave.

He said he had a client who was interested in building a large store, complete with parking lot, on the field.

Commissioners said they had recommended plan lines for the street extension and that the street would follow the plan lines.

The land is owned by the Southern Pacific Co.

MP Drops Centennial Fete Plans

Plans for a centennial celebration this Summer were dropped by the Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce Tuesday at a meeting of the Menlo Park City Council.

A chamber of commerce delegation submitted a second request for use of the city parking plaza and a waiver of license fees for the celebration, specifying that no professional carnival would be invited. The council had previously denied both use of the plaza and a waiver.

Councilmen decided in caucus that the issue was controversial and should be set for public hearing in a week. Chamber representatives declared there would not be enough time left to prepare the fete if the decision were delayed any longer.

Councilman Edward Church then acted to bring the issue to decision by moving denial of the waiver of fees. Mayor Charles Burgess and Councilman George Ford said they favored some kind of a package deal on the fees, but Councilmen Daniel Hayes and Wallace Brown sided with Church and the proposed waiver was denied, 3-2.

B. Frank Thompson, chamber centennial manager, declared that a celebration of the type planned would be impossible unless some license fees were waived. Then he withdrew the request for use of the plaza.

Mayor Burgess said that the council had been influenced in its decision by the carnival—even local-type — aspect of "wheels of chance" and other games included in plans. He said the council would probably favor any given project of a more cultural aspect.

Thompson then suggested that the chamber sponsor a festival in the Burgess Park recreation area including folk dancing, parades, and exhibits, but "no wheels." The chamber could run soft drink and food concessions, he said.

Alarm Causes Burglars to Flee

Burglars who broke into the East Palo Alto American Legion Hall Tuesday evening were scared away when a burglar alarm went off and alerted the neighborhood.

Dep. Sheriffs Gene Stewart and William Moran reported that residents of the area saw a car drive away immediately after the burglar alarm sounded. The car contained two or three young men.

The deputies were patrolling in the East Palo Alto area when they heard the burglar alarm at the Legion Hall, which is at 2398 University Ave.

Their investigation revealed that the burglars had kicked in the door between the main building and the barroom. The cash register in the bar contained about $40, but the money was not touched. The entry was made while the bartender, Lloyd Kemp, was at home for dinner, the deputies stated.

Planners to OK Undersized Lots

Redwood City planning commissioners this week said they would approve undersized lots in the P. J. Murphy subdivision east of El Camino Real at northern city limits.

H. C. Armitage, who is with Edwin H. Smith, engineer in charge of the project, asked a reduction of lot widths from 60 to 50 feet. The lots are 100 feet deep, so, the narrowing would mean lots of 5000 square feet instead of the 6000 square feet required by the city for subdivisions.

Commissioners told Armitage to bring in a revised tentative map for the subdivision showing the 50-foot lots. They indicated they would then grant variances permitting the construction of homes on the less than normal lots.

Klose Requests New SC Zoning

San Carlos Councilman William Klose this week proposed that both sides of Elm and Walnut Sts. for the entire length of the city be rezoned from first to third class residential areas.

The council voted to refer the proposal to the city planning commission for study.

Klose said that by the rezoning, the area would act as a buffer between the Laurel St. business district and first class residential areas, and that by changing it to third class residential areas.

The council voted to refer the proposal to the city planning commission for study.

Klose said that by the rezoning, the area would act as a buffer between the Laurel St. business district and first class residential areas, and that by changing it to third class residential it would double the assessed valuation of the city which in turn would lower taxes for home owners.

He said the city building department has had a number of requests to build apartment houses on Walnut and Elm Sts. which it has had to turn down.

State Lot Sales To Aid Relief Unit

SACRAMENTO (WNS) — The California Assembly today approved legislation allowing the sale of four state owned lots in Menlo Park, the proceeds from the sale to go to the Woman's Relief Corps Home.

The property is located on Laurel Ave., Menlo Park, Sen. Byrl Salsman, Palo Alto sponsored the bill authorizing the sale. According to Saratoga Assemblyman Robert Kirkwood who cosponsored the measure in the lower house, the state no longer has use for the property.

NEW OFFICE TO OPEN—Arnold Pastorious, local bureau chief, looks over the new facilities for the State Dept. of Motor Vehicles which opens here this week, culminating a program to speed the service to motorists in San Mateo County. The new building is at Arguello St. and Whipple Ave. The vehicles department has been located in the highway patrol building on Marshall St. The CHP will continue to operate from that same location.

State Ready to Open Vehicle Office Here

The California Dept. of Motor Vehicles will open its new branch office at 902 Whipple Ave., at Arguello St., Redwood City, at 9 a.m. Monday, Arnold Pastorius, branch manager, announced Wednesday.

The office will contain both the division of drivers license and the division of motor vehicle registration. The motor vehicles department headquarters has been located in the California Highway Patrol office at Marshall St. at Middlefield Rd.

Pastorius said that the new office building will provide for streamlining of the business of both divisions. The building, owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Gennaro, is being leased by the motor vehicles department on a five-year lease, with an option for a renewal.

The building is of pumistone brick and has a floor space of 2400 feet. There will be space for 10 windows, which will give a more efficient service during the peak license renewal periods, Pastorius said.

The present staff of the motor vehicle branch consists of eight persons, including Pastorius, two clerks, two typists, two drivers license examiners and a third examiner for Saturday mornings.

The property on which the building is located is 2200 square feet, providing for ample parking for customers. Pastorius declared. Drivers license applicants will be able to park their cars in the parking lot, and start and end the road test there.

Directional signs will be placed later on El Camino Real and on Bayshore Hwy., to point the way for out-of-town customers. The Redwood City branch is the only one in San Mateo County.

Pastorius said that the department branch will be open for business from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, including the lunch hour, and from 9 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon on Saturdays.

RC Driver Arraigned In SM Accident

Salvatore P. Polumbo, 21, 45 Amherst St., was arraigned Wednesday in San Mateo Municipal Court on charges of driving his automobile without due caution and violating a pedestrian right of way.

His car was involved in an accident on April 13 in San Mateo in which two women pedestrians were injured. They were Verne Alois Demorest, 41, San Mateo, and Irene Chichizola, 49, San Mateo.

Polumbo will enter his plea on May 4.

Grand Jury Plans Budget Report

The grand jury's detailed recommendations on the San Mateo County salary budget are to be presented to the board of supervisors Friday afternoon by James B. Howell, chairman of the jury's finance committee.

Howell already has made a general recommendation asking the supervisors to "hold the line" on the number of county jobs, and cut $300,000 from the sum requested by department heads for salaries.

Canadian Consul Talks to Kiwanis

C. N. Senior, Canadian Consul in San Francisco was guest speaker this week at a meeting of the San Carlos Kiwanis Club. The talk was held in conjunction with the International Kiwanis program of Canada-United States Good Will Week.

Senior pointed out that Canada is the United States' best customer and buys more from the United States than all the rest of the world put together.

Carl Yearing was program chairman for the meeting.

Belmont Acts to Condemn Old Hotel Bldg.

Belmont Councilmen Monday night voted to start abatement proceedings against the old hotel building on the northeast corner of the Ralston Ave. County Rd. intersection after holding a public hearing.

Owner of the building, Mrs. Maria J. Jones of Sharp Park, was represented by an attorney at the hearing, L. A. Cowen of San Rafael. Cowen questioned the city's right to condemn the property as a nuisance and commented that he may carry the case into the courts.

Testifying that the building was unsafe and a health and fire hazard were Emil G. Stein, housing inspector for the county health department, Fire Chief Elbert Miller, and County Bldg. Insp. A. W. Russell. Henry Schumaker, owner of a San Carlos market which is using the building as a warehouse, testified that no electric current is going into the building at present.

Cowen questioned the council's right to determine whether a building is a nuisance and said that such a matter should be determined in court. The council adopted the abatement resolution unanimously.

Monday night the council also:

Voted to consult with the public utilities commission to set a fair price on the cost of installing crossing gates at the Ralston Ave. railroad crossing. Mayor Bayley Kohlmeier pointed out that the council had agreed to put up the gates on a 50-50 cost basis with the Southern Pacific, but discovered that the total cost of the project would be about $13,000 instead of $6500 as the council had previously estimated.

Reelected Bayley Kohlmeier as mayor and gave him a vote of confidence after Kohlmeier announced that the council should review its organization each year.

Heard Councilman Ray Rhodes urge the citizens of Belmont to support the proposed $2,150,000 Sequoia High School bond issue.

Voted to allow the recreation commission to block off a portion of Fifth Ave. on June 3 for a street dance and carnival to raise money for the city summer recreation program.

Adjourned until next Monday night when the council will take up a cardroom and social club ordinance proposed by the San Mateo County Grand Jury. The council will also consider possible regulations of pinball machines.

Preventorium Plans Aired By Directors

Directors of the San Mateo Preventorium Wednesday had under consideration plans for a thorough reorganization designed to increase the use of the facility in San Mateo. Dr. H. L. Mawdsley of San Mateo suggested to the board Tuesday that the name of the preventorium be changed and that it increase its program.

Mrs. Harry S. Dana, who served as president of the board for more than 25 years prior to her retirement, contended that lack of publicity rather than the name of the institution was responsible for the relatively low number (17) of children cared for at the preventorium.

"The name didn't keep the children away in the past," she argued. "Why should it now?"

She urged that the board appoint a public relations manager to make known to physicians, public health nurses and the public generally the facilities available.

Upshot of the session was appointment of a committee to study the whole problem and report at the May meeting.

Dr. Mawdsley, presenting the views of himself, Dr. Edward S. Schulze, Dr. Eberhard Sogemeier and a committee of past presidents, recommended that the preventorium not only change its name, but accept children suffering from malnutrition, nervous tension contributing to allergies, rheumatic fever convalescents, possibly some bed patients although this would require a complete change in the operation of the preventorium, and non-infectious tuberculosis contacts.

Dir. John D. Bromfield expressed the belief that the word "preventorium" has misled the community into the conception that the institution was designed only to prevent tuberculosis among children.

"The purpose is to elevate health among children," Dr. Schulze stated. "The preventorium as such is gradually disappearing from the scene. Specialists now consider it better to go out and find cases. The name is obsolete and a little unpopular at the present time."

Mrs. Dana rejected the suggestion that the name be changed to "Dana Convalescent Home." Dr. Mawdsley suggested "Children's Health Home."

Service Station Bandit Gets San Quentin Sentence

One member of a bandit team which held up a Brisbane service station attendant on Feb. 19 was on his way to San Quentin today—sentenced there by two superior court judges.

Roy H. McDaniels, 38-year-old grave digger who for the past year had been living in Brisbane, was sent to the state prison by both Judge Aylett R. Cotton and Judge Edmund Scott.

McDaniels was sentenced "for the term prescribed by law" on four counts—first degree robbery, kidnapping, assault with a deadly weapon, and possession of a gun by an ex-felon.

The robbery charge grew out of the holdup of Walter Upson, the service station attendant. McDaniels and Stanley Jones, 27, also of Brisbane, got $71 from Upson.

Two days later the bandit pair was stopped by South San Francisco police, who found them speeding. While McDaniels was being taken to the police station by Officer Vincent Bianchini, the Brisbane man pulled two guns on the policeman and forced him to drive to Brisbane.

Bianchini, however, talked McDaniels out of the kidnap, drove back to South San Francisco, where the latter was arrested. The kidnap, assault and gun charges followed.

Jones, who has pleaded guilty to the robbery charge, was due to be sentenced Monday by Judge Scott, but sought and was granted a one-week delay.

Adult Probation Officer Don Helbush reported that McDaniels, when he was 16, was arrested as an accessory to the murder of a Kansas service station attendant. He was convicted, sentenced to life imprisonment, and released on parole after serving nine and one-half years.

Since his release, McDaniels was arrested about a half dozen times, mostly for drunkenness. His sentences at San Quentin are to run concurrently.

In another criminal case, Sol Abrams, 43-year-old San Francisco tailor, pleaded guilty to a bad check charge. Judge Scott is to pass sentence on May 9, when he also will consider Abrams' plea for probation.

Abrams admitted passing a $25 bad check on Jan. 15 to Jack Gardner of Burlingame.

Two Officers Hurt In SC Collision

Two San Carlos police officers were injured early Wednesday when their patrol car was involved in a rear end collision on El Camino Real at the Brittan Ave. intersection.

Police said that Arthur David Fast, 26, of 211 Park St., Redwood City, apparently fell asleep at the wheel and that the car he was driving crashed into the rear of the southbound patrol car.

Driver of the police car, Officer Charles E. Blake, 23, of 917 Walnut St., San Carlos, was still in Community Hospital today for observation.

Hospital authorities Wednesday faternoon reported that Blake has a possible spine fracture.

The other patrolman, Douglas Ogalvie, 30, of 120 Arundel Ave., San Carlos, was treated at Community Hospital for minor injuries and released. Police said that Fast sustained minor injuries but refused medical aid.

Officers said that the patrol car was badly damaged in the rear.

Edgewood Park Promised Aid

Edgewood Park residents this week were promised improvements to the water system in their district by the end of July.

Water Supt. Lisle Winter told Redwood City councilmen at a caucus session that as soon as his department gets through installing automatic valves at the city reservoirs they will start on the Edgewood project.

The project calls for the installation of an eight-inch main from the Alameda de las Pulgas to Melrose St. along Blandford Blvd. and Edgewood, the installation of a six-inch main along Whipple Ave. between the Alameda and Nevada St., and the installation of a six-inch main on Langston St. between Edgewood and Blandford.

Coyote Point Families Get Extension

Families of 112 veterans were told Tuesday by the County Board of Supervisors that they can stay in their quarters at Coyote Point at least until the first of the year.

The only thing that will change the situation is that if the federal government decides to close down the project before Jan. 1. However, there is no indication that it will do so.

The veterans' families were given the news when they appeared before the supervisors, which decided today on the closing date of the project.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Louis B. Dematteis, told the board that he has consulted federal authorities, and according to the Public Housing Administration the project may not be closed before the end of the year. The supervisors however decided to take the following actions in connection with the project:

1. Call a meeting with representatives of federal government, state government and representatives of the city of San Mateo to sit in with the county housing authority to map ultimate plans for the project.

2. Instruct the county building inspector to investigate the housing units and recommend correction of whatever unsafe features he finds.

A meeting will be held sometime during April and at it the officials also will discuss making any changes which may be necessary.

In the meantime, the board declared there is no change in the policy at the housing project. No instructions have gone out to keep vacant units untenanted, Chmn. Henry W. Edmonds declared.

The meeting was attended by a handful of wives of veterans living in the project, some of them with babies. Dematteis explained to the group that rents collected by the local housing authority were used for maintainance and upkeep according to federal rules, and the net income is turned over to the federal government to be applied to repayment of the cost of the project.

Mrs. Ace Grigsby keynoted the feelings of the other by declaring that they are "perfectly agreeable to getting out." She said that all of the families at the project—numbering about 450 men, women and children—are trying to find other places to live.

"Anything the board decides will be agreeable to us," Mrs. Grigsby declared.

The board agreed to notify representatives of the veterans' families as to when the proposed meeting will be held, so that the veterans could be represented.

The board also told them that it would hope to arrive at a decision as to what would happen to the project after the first of the year. It would depend, however, on federal authorities, the supervisors declared.

W. F. Smith, San Francisco investment broker, spoke and displayed the moving pictures which illustrated the basis for making sound investments.

The speaker was introduced by Program Chmn. Frank Conkling; Pres. Brooke Halsey presided.

Dr. John Babcock, Redwood City optometrist, was welcomed into the club as a new member.

Retail Sales Show Big Gain In Bay Area for 10-Yr. Period

The growth of retail sales in principal Bay Area cities over the nine year period between 1939 and 1948 shows community gains ranging from 160 to 850 per cent, according to a study issued today by the Bay Area council.

The report is based upon collections made by Bay cities under city sales tax ordinances for the year ending June 30, 1948, as compared with similar data in the 1939 Federal Census of Retailing. All but six California cities with a population over 25,000 now have local retail sales tax ordinances.

Amazing retail sales gains are recorded from practically every Bay Area community included in the council study. The near 50 per cent growth in nine Bay county population since 1940, coupled with parallel increase in purchasing power has lifted the area's taxable retail sales volume well above the 67 per cent gain shown nationally for the consumer's price index for all commodities. Moreover, these totals do not include grocery food items or gasoline sales.

Highest record increase for city retail sales over the 1939-48 period was held by Richmond, with a 1948 fiscal year high mark of $56,431,702, for an 85 per cent gain over the $5,943,000 sales of 1939.

San Francisco showed the highest dollar volume in Bay county retail sales, $1,364,003,000, a 385 per cent gain over the $281,279,000 of 1939.

Oakland showed the second highest dollar value in retail sales (based on city tax data) with $388,507,912 for the year ending June 30, 1948. This was 206 per cent over the $127,099,000 retail colume of 1939.

San Leandro registered the second highest gain percentagewise in retail sales with a fiscal year (1948) total of $15,035,842 amounting to 578 per cent increase over the $2,219,000 sales of 1939.

Antioch with a 524 per cent gain to $5,645,530; El Cerrito with a 386 per cent gain to $7,588,104; and Albany with a 384 per cent gain to $7,389,152 were the next highest in retail sales gains among those having data available for the council report.

Berkeley, with a 250 per cent gain in retail sales to $72,840,902 in 1948; Pittsburg with a 270 per cent gain to $11,571,952; San Jose with a 228 per cent gain to $110,483,256; and Mill Valley with a 294 per cent gain to $3,783,314 were also among the cities showing a better than three times increase in volume of retail sales over the nine year period. Santa Rosa more than doubled its 1939 retail sales volume with a 127 per cent gain to $23,206,464.

The council report pointed out that, while other Bay Area cities, including Redwood City, probably would show parallel gains for 1948, comparable data for 1939 is not available.

Minister Held in Slaying of Ex-Bay Area Wife, Arraignment Set for Next Week

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—The Rev. George P. Hetenyi, 40-year-old clergyman, was held today as the alleged slayer of his wife.

The suburban Buffalo minister was charged with first degree murder.

Arraignment was deferred until Wednesday to permit him to obtain counsel.

Dist. Atty. Anthony Miceli accused Hetenyi of having fatally shot his attractive, 25-year-old wife, the former Jean Gareis of Oakland, Calif., "on or about April 22."

The woman's body was found the following day in the Genesee River. Two .25 caliber slugs were taken from the body and an autopsy determined that she had been shot to death. Hetenyi was taken into custody Tuesday as a material witness.

In court Hetenyi said Bishop Lauriston I. Scaife of the Western New York Episcopal Diocese had assured him that funds for his defense would be provided.

GARDEN: A Fast Talker Leaves Langley Confused

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

This won't take long, but I want to tell you. A fellow was talking about a product for the soil. He was trying to interest me in it, and his talk left me confused. Here are some of the things he told me with all the assurance I would state that two and two make four. I mean he was positive about them.

(1) You can't get any good out of minerals unless they are organic minerals. (2) If you grow fruits, vegetables or flowers by organic gardening, you don't need to spray, because the plants will be healthy and insects won't attack healthy plants. (3) There's a man growing celery, and it isn't turning out well. His soil was analyxed and it turned out to be 38 per cent nitrogen. (4) Louis Brookfield is a writer. He lives in Ohio and grows everything by organic gardening. Everything. He farms 32,000 acres. (5) You can't expect to grow vegetables unless you have earthworms in the soil. (6) If you want to go in 50-50 on some land, spend $5000 for seed, you can make $8000 per acre on carrots, or lettuce. (7) Tomatoes are the hardest crop of all to grow. (8) Most farmers spend $1000 per acre on fertilizer per year, but if they would buy this material and farm "organic" it would cost them much less. (9) You can put this material around a 50-year-old tree and in five days you can see the difference in the leaves. (10) Plants must get the trace elements from organic sources. (11) If you add the right "organic" minerals to your soil, you don't need nitrogen, phosphates or potash. After all, look at the jungles. Did anyone add commercial fertilizers to them to get that growth?"

Further this talker suggested that he would appreciate it in a worthwhile way if I would mention his product in the column and on the air.

As I said, all this talk left me sort of confused. I had thought I looked intelligent enough so that a person would either stick to the truth with me, or hold to a line I couldn't check on, or would not know anything about. Now I'm sure I must look like an utter sap.

But these were some of the things the man told me, and with utmost conviction.

Mostly I just kept quiet and took it. Several times I couldn't resist breaking it, although what I said made no impression. For example, when he said that celery land analyzed 38 per cent nitrogen, I couldn't help but remark that even sulphate of ammonia is only 20.5 per cent nitrogen. If anyone had soil testing 38 per cent, he could cut it with sand and still have something stronger than sulphate of ammonia.

I couldn't help saying that if farmers were spending $1000 per acre per year on fertilizer, I'd sure like to be in the fertilizer business for just one season. And if anyone could make $8000 per acre from a crop of carrots, it's a wonder anyone ever planted anything else.

As a matter of fact, carrots are hanging sort of heavy on the market right now. The price is low, and growers are wondering if there will be enough demand to pay shipping them out of Imperial Valley.

If anyone starts telling you that things won't grow unless they are grown in organic material, ask them this one question: "Since organic matter must one time have been living tissue, either of plant or animal, (and the animal must have had living plants to eat), how did plants ever start growing, unless they had the capacity to get their minerals direct from the elements of the earth?"

I ask this "organic mineral" man that question. He stopped his line for a moment, and said, "Don't be silly."

I'll try not to be. I asked no more questions of him, but let him talk. When he reads this, and I imagine he will, he'll know better than to spend more time on me. But gosh, I wish I didn't look so gullible. It's most confusing.

Twenty-three candidates are seeking election for posts in 10 South San Mateo County high school-elementary school districts

Mrs. Eleanor Keyes of 57 Selby Ln., Atherton, was the latest to file in the race. Mrs. Keyes is seeking a post on the Redwood City Elementary School Board.

Mrs. Keyes, the mother of two children, said she has been interested in education all her life and said in seeking election she feels "there is room for improvement" in the Redwood district.

She holds a teaching certificate from Stanford University and has taught school in Marin and San Francisco Counties.

Opposing Mrs. Keyes will be Ray Weymouth. Incumbent Cuthbert Currie is not seeking reelection.

Two more persons last week entered the race for the Menlo Park district post. They are Louis A. Anderson and Wallace E. Gott. Mrs. Phyllis O. Campbell is also a candidate.

The school board election will be held May 20.

Claudino is a veteran, having served two years in the navy during the war. His appointment is effective May 1, Volpiano said.

The Woodside Fire Dept. now has seven paid men in addition to the chief.

Suit to Condemn Site for School

A condemnation suit was filed in superior court in Redwood City today by the San Mateo Elementary School Dist. to obtain a site for the College Park Elementary School.

The complaint in eminent domain, filed by the district attorney's office in behalf of the district, is against the Conway & Culligan Development Co., and also against the California Water Service.

The site sought by the school district is along Indian Ave. and Eldorado St., opposite the San Mateo High School. It consists of 5.8 acres, and is cut through by Leland Ln. Two sides of the site are bounded by the California Water Service property.

The resolution outlining proposed acquisition of the site for the elementary school was passed by the board of trustees of the San Mateo Elementary School Dist. on March 18. The court is asked to condemn the property and to set the value.

Plan Camp Meet For SC 'Y' Boys

Arrangements have been completed by the Sequoia YMCA to provide a special camp period of seven days for youths of San Carlos who are between the ages of 9 and 17 years.

This camping period will be held from June 30 to July 6 at Jones Gulch. Kenneth T. Osman, executive secretary of the Sequoia "Y," will be director. With a large number of youths from San Carlos father and son clubs being eligible for camp this year, this arrangement will provide a special program geared to younger boys of the community.

'RAISE YOUR RIGHT HAND . . .' — Boys who took over Menlo Park city government jobs at the annual Lions Club yesterday were sworn in by Mrs. Frank S. Becker, regular city clerk. Among them were, left to right: Chief of Police Gilbert Rodriguez, City Atty. John Beltramo, and City Clerk Ray Dils. Other seventh and eighth graders from city and parochial schools tried their hands at running businesses throughout the city. A dinner and entertainment arranged by the Lions last night topped off the day's activities.

County Sets Mental Health Week Program

Community action for the promotion of good mental health and the prevention of ill health will be stimulated here this week with the first annual National Mental Health Week observance, it was announced Wednesday by Dr. Lorenz Gerlach, president of San Mateo County Chapter of the Mental Health Society of Northern California.

"Every two and one-half minutes someone is admitted to a mental hospital in this country," Dr. Gerlach pointed out. "One in every five families is affected by mental illness. We have a big job to do, for mental health is everybody's business."

National Mental Health Week, sponsored nationally by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, together with the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, the Mental Health Foundation, the U.S. Public Health Service, and co-sponsored locally by the San Mateo County Chapter of the Mental Health Society, will alert citizens throughout the country to the threat to public health and the important role the community may play in combatting mental ill health.

Mrs. Clemens Friedell, publicity chairman, said her committee has planned to observe Mental Health Week here by displays throughout the county, their main display will be in the P.G. & E. window, 3rd Ave., San Mateo. Spot announcements will be made by both radio stations—KVSM and KSMO. Cooperation with newspapers has been assured.

MP Council Asks Freeway Switch

Menlo Park's City Council went on record this week as favoring rerouting of the proposed Bayshore Freeway around the city near the bay.

Councilmen declared they felt such a route would be best for the city. They said building of the freeway along the present Bayshore route would tend to divide Menlo Park's Belle Haven area and cause increased policing problems.

A special committee was appointed to consider zoning of the Presbyterian Church property in Fire Zone 2. Church officers had requested a speedy decision because of funds problems, and pointed out that the small portion of church property which does not abutt a street has a 20-foot clearance from the property line of the nearest building.

The council committee will meet with fire district and church officials to consider the problem.

A resolution approving the deed to the civic center property and accepting its conveyance was passed, and a warrant for the $14,240 payment was authorized.

The 2.8 acre civic area is being purchased from the War Assets Administration. It was formerly part of Dibble Hospital. The land is near the 25-acre recreation area which was formally purchased last week.

Menlo Park's Police Dept. and the Menlo Park Fire Dist. will join the San Mateo County sheriff's office radio network July 1.

The council acted to join the council system, at no cost, and directed a letter to the Palo Alto Police Dept. announcing the change and thanking Palo Alto "for good service."

Technical changes in the Palo Alto and county radio setups are reasons for the switch, City Mgr. Cecil Longson said. A phone answering service and call dispatching system similar to that now being used will be provided by the county.

★ ★ ★

Longson was directed to investigate possible annexation of a section between Olive and Lemon Ave., and Menlo and Santa Cruz Aves. A letter from James Armstrong broached the subject. Armstrong said he and other persons building there would like to be in the city.

"It would be a desirable area to bring in," Mayor Charles Burgess said, "because it is almost surrounded by the city now."

The area may qualify for admission under the uninhabited territory annexation method, City Atty. James T. O'Keefe Jr. said.

Bay Rd. between Willow Rd. and Flood Park and Roble Ave. between University Dr. and El Camino Real were accepted as part of the city's major street system. Thus gas tax funds may be used for their improvement.

Improvement of Roble Ave. and nearby streets was designated as the 1949-50 project in a resolution stating that more than 60 per cent of the interested owners have waived the preliminary debt limitations act and declaring the job would be in the public interest.

★ ★ ★

The council awarded a contract for improvement of Nealon Park softball field lighting to the Stewart Electric Co. of Menlo Park, low bidder at $466.40. Money for the project came from two benefit funds.

Joint use of city parks and school playgrounds for after school, weekend, and Summer recreation programs was approved by the council.

An agreement between the city recreation department and the school district concerning playground directors is being worked out.

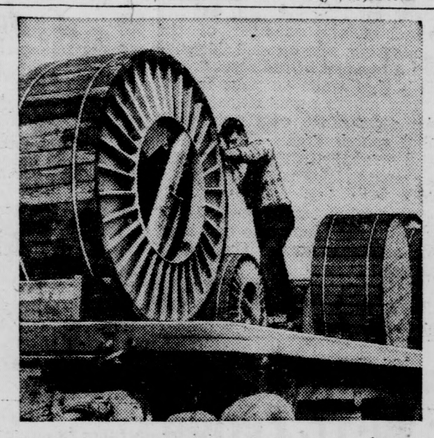
HOW MANY COAST JOBS WERE BORN

Pacific Telephone's construction program has made work for countless thousands and added to the West's postwar prosperity



1. When you see telephone cable on its way to work, you're watching the West benefit in two important ways. It means new voice highways for the West . . . more telephones . . . better service. It also means jobs and paychecks for the men who make the cable, those who install it and, later on, those who maintain it. And putting in new cable is just a small part of our building program.

2. Hundreds of new buildings mean work for carpenters, bricklayers—and work for those who provide the materials. They mean future jobs for telephone people. Since the war, we've put half a billion dollars to work in new construction. Much of it has found its way in ever-widening circles into the economy of practically every city and town in the West.

3. More business for the baker, the druggist, the clothier — telephone construction has given the West a big postwar lift. There's no way, of course, to trace all the jobs created by just one mile of cable . . . or one building. But it would probably be hard to find a family whose income has not benefited, in some way, from the money we've spent to provide more service.

4. It all adds up—this tremendous building program—to a better West for all of us and better telephone service. You can help yourself to the best possible service, too. Such things as making sure of the right number before you call and giving the called party plenty of time to answer help make your telephone a better servant.

County Road Setup Sought By Planners

A joint city and county project to turn the Old County Rd. into an intercity service highway between Redwood City and San Mateo was aired Wednesday at a Redwood City Planning Commission session in the city hall.

Plans drawn by the San Mateo County engineer's office show that the road along the east side of Southern Pacific Co. tracks would be 80 feet wide. The problem facing the commission is to find a means of swinging the road so that it will hook up with Arguello St. directly and bring traffic into the business district.

The commisison also:

Postponed action on the setting of plan lines for El Camino Real.

Granted H. M. Nissen permission to construct a rumpus room at 949 Arlington Rd.

Recommended that the city council grant J. F. Mozak permission to resubdivide two lots at 5th Ave. and Hoover St. so that they will face 5th Ave. and measure 60 feet by 100 feet rather than 50 feet by 120 feet. They recommended that the council insist on a 20-foot setback on Hoover St. for the resubdivided lots.

Granted a use permit to E. J. Chandler for a second dwelling on a first residential zone lot on Taft St. near Roosevelt Ave.

Approved construction of a bathroom in a garage at 240 Outer Circle.

Granted Ray Jackson permission to have a temporary building at 1336 Hudson St. for one year.

Set for hearing on May 9 a request by A. R. Burt for the rezoning of a triangular lot on Broadway near Hopkins Ave. from first residential to multiple dwelling use. Burt wrote that he wanted to construct three studio apartments around a patio on the lot.

Granted Mrs. A. E. Countagarael permission to install a bathroom in a guest house at McKinley St. and Roosevelt Ave.

Recommended to council that Benedict Assenza be permitted to install a pawn shop at 539 Middlefield Rd. providing the traditional pawn shop sign is not used.

Retail Sales Show Big Gain In Bay Area for 10-Yr. Period

The growth of retail sales in principal Bay Area cities over the nine year period between 1939 and 1948 shows community gains ranging from 160 to 850 per cent, according to a study issued today by the Bay Area council.

The report is based upon collections made by Bay cities under city sales tax ordinances for the year ending June 30, 1948, as compared with similar data in the 1939 Federal Census of Retailing. All but six California cities with a population over 25,000 now have local retail sales tax ordinances.

Amazing retail sales gains are recorded from practically every Bay Area community included in the council study. The near 50 per cent growth in nine Bay county population since 1940, coupled with parallel increase in purchasing power has lifted the area's taxable retail sales volume well above the 67 per cent gain shown nationally for the consumer's price index for all commodities. Moreover, these totals do not include grocery food items or gasoline sales.

Highest record increase for city retail sales over the 1939-48 period was held by Richmond, with a 1948 fiscal year high mark of $56,431,702, for an 85 per cent gain over the $5,943,000 sales of 1939.

San Francisco showed the highest dollar volume in Bay county retail sales, $1,364,003,000, a 385 per cent gain over the $281,279,000 of 1939.

Oakland showed the second highest dollar value in retail sales (based on city tax data) with $388,507,912 for the year ending June 30, 1948. This was 206 per cent over the $127,099,000 retail colume of 1939.

San Leandro registered the second highest gain percentagewise in retail sales with a fiscal year (1948) total of $15,035,842 amounting to 578 per cent increase over the $2,219,000 sales of 1939.

Antioch with a 524 per cent gain to $5,645,530; El Cerrito with a 386 per cent gain to $7,588,104; and Albany with a 384 per cent gain to $7,389,152 were the next highest in retail sales gains among those having data available for the council report.

Berkeley, with a 250 per cent gain in retail sales to $72,840,902 in 1948; Pittsburg with a 270 per cent gain to $11,571,952; San Jose with a 228 per cent gain to $110,483,256; and Mill Valley with a 294 per cent gain to $3,783,314 were also among the cities showing a better than three times increase in volume of retail sales over the nine year period.

Burlingame Sets Crackdown On City Dog Poisonings

Chief of Police R. C. Theuer today had announced that an agent of the state board of pharmacy will join local efforts to track down a poisoner believed responsible for the deaths of eight dogs in recent weeks, most of them in North Burlingame.

The chief said L. M. Walsh of the state board which controls the sale of all poisons through drug stores, had agreed to cooperate fully with local authorities.

Investigations launched more than a week ago were spurred Saturday by the formation of a citizens group in North Burlingame and the announcement that a $100 reward had been posted by the group for apprehension of the killer.

Indignant parents expressed fears that poisoned meat believed responsible for the dogs' deaths might get into the hands of children.

However, Chief Theuer said today no poisoned meat has actually been found yet. Some hamburger analyzed April 21 proved to be free of poison and a second sample, sent to Joseph Swim, San Francisco toxicologist, Friday has not yet been analyzed.

It was reported Saturday by W. O. Lindholm, head of the citizens committee, that the latest piece was poisoned. Theuer said today, however, that Swim had not finished the examination.

Meanwhile, the committee was carrying out a volunteer night watch in the area where most of the poisonings occurred The committee reported several members patrolled all night over the weekend.

At the first outbreak of poisonings, Robert Gardner, Burlingame poundmaster, warned residents to keep their dogs leashed.

The city recently passed an ordinance requiring all dogs to be leashed except when on the owner's premises. The first poisoning occurred shortly after passage of the law.

Swift Urges Rec Setup

Part-time recreation activities in eight communities of San Mateo County should be returned to local control, Arthur V. Swift, chairman of the county recreation committee, suggested today to the board of supervisors.

The suggestion was made in a letter attached to the recreation commission's extra help budget in which $9500 is scheduled for part-time recreation workers throughout the county and $5032 for swimming pool workers.

The eight part-time recreation programs which the commission is recommending be returned to local control are those in Bayshore City, Las Lomitas, Garfield School, Woodside, Portola Half Moon Bay, Lomita Park, and Broadmoor Village.

"There would not be enough funds to carry on a general community recreation program if we are to meet the necessary expenses of operating our regional parks and areas which are of countywide interest," Swift stated.

Lions Club Honors Carrington

Sixty men gathered last night to pay tribute to a man who has brought pleasure and entertainment to millions.

Otis M. Carrington, for 43 years music teacher and currently head of the music department at Sequoia High School, was made an honorary member of the Redwood City Lions Club during a surprise dinner at Ramor Oaks.

Carrington, who retires at the end of the current semester, was presented with a scroll recognizing his achievements in the field of music and making him one of the few persons in the history of the club to be listed as an honorary member.

Carrington was praised by his longtime associate, Roy W. Cloud, who gave Carrington his first teaching job in Redwood City nearly half a century ago.

Cloud, leader in the organization of the California Teachers Assn., traced the career of Carrington, "who has written more operettas for use in schools than any other man in American history."

Cloud told how he found Carrington singing at the Baptist Church and when a teaching job opened in Redwood City, he gave him the position, "even though he didn't have a credential." Cloud added, however, that a special test had been prepared to give Carrington the chance to qualify.

Another presentation was made by Thor Krough, Sequoia principal and member of the Lions Club, who handed Carrington a bouquet of red roses "to go with that smile on your face."

The meeting was climaxed by the appearance of Carrington's high school Treble Clef singers who serenaded their teacher after making their surprise appearance.

Carrington was praised by some of the Lions who had been his students during their days at Sequoia.

The program was arranged by Carl Britschgi. Pres. James Flynn presided.

Contractor, City Reach 'Main' Accord

Collen Construction Co. is willing to sign a contract with Redwood City for the installation of a water main on Truman St. in a new subdivision at western city limits, City Atty. Cuthbert Currie told city councilmen this week.

C. J. Colligan, firm official, had previously demanded that the city install the main for which he offered to pay but he balked at signing a contract promising to pay.

Councilmen at that time said that it was a case of no-contract, no-main.

They said they would be willing to enter into an agreement similar to the one it signed with M. J. King Co. for a subdivision in the same area. That agreement called for the subdivider to pay for the main and to receive 20 per cent of the gross receipts from the area served by that main for 10 years or until he is paid back, whichever is first. The original discussion between the Collen firm and the city had no provisions for the city to pay back.

The council:

Accepted the bid of the Cyclone Fence Co of $712 for the installation of a Hawes Park softball diamond fence.

Instructed Currie to bring in an ordinance at the next meeting which would set the speed limit on Harbor Blvd. at 35 miles an hour as recommended by the Traffic Fact-Finding Committee.

Adopted weed abatement resolutions.

Granted the J C. Penney Co. a loading zone on Jefferson Ave. The zone will be the size of two parking spaces.

Instructed City Engineer Glenn Jain to determine the cost of cutting off part of the most westerly of the traffic island on Blandford Blvd.

Referred to the Fact-Finding Committee a request by Ernest H. Werder, assistant San Mateo County fire warden, that parallel parking be installed on Marshall St. between Arguello and Warren Sts. Werder said that street was used by county fire rigs and that angle parking made high speed use of the street dangerous.

Transferred $2857.75 from the Park Dept. budget to the Recreation Dept. budget to pay for the installation of a fence and lights at a Hawes Park softball diamond.

Instructed city officials to call for bids on the repaving of Harbor Blvd. Councilman Floyd Granger said the port commission had agreed to pay for half the cost remaining after a federal government donation is used up. The federal government is to pay for damage done when the navy used the port as a wartime gasoline dump.

Jain has estimated that it will take $22,000 besides that money to bring the street to top shape. Granger said he was making arrangements for a meeting with county supervisors to determine whether they'll aid with the cost of the project. Councilman Albert H. Morgan Jr. voted against the project, saying he believes the city could better spend its money on streets used by the entire community.

Approved a recommendation by Currie that the city sell $48,000 of the remaining $198,000 worth of 1944 civic improvement bonds still remaining unsold at the same time that it sells $125,000 of the $150,000 issue approved recently to complete paying on a new sewage disposal plant.

City Mgr. E. A. Rolison warned that the city may have to sell the remaining $25,000 in the sewage bond issue in the future but that at present it looks like the job can be cleaned up for $125,000. The remaining $150,000 in the 1944 issue is the amount councilmen promised to cancel if voters approved the sewage bond issue.

Dolwig Plans $10,000,000 State Recreation Program

Assemblyman Richard J. Dolwig of San Mateo County Tuesday scheduled two bills for hearing which would set up a recreation fund of approximately $10,000,000 for recreation facilities in California.

Chairman of the interim committee on youth welfare in the lower house of the state legislature, Dolwig introduced legislation to provide funds for recreational purposes which will come from the state's share of race track bets.

"This money will be available to cities, counties, school districts and recreational districts on a matching fund basis," Dolwig said, "for capital expenditures for recreational facilities in local communities."

Under the legislation, applications for the money would be made to the state recreational commission to be processed on the basis of need. Final approval of construction work will be made by the state public works board.

The bills, which have been set for hearing May 4 before the committee on conservation and planning, are the result of a report submitted earlier this month by the committee on youth welfare.

After two years of study the committee made three principal recommendations to the assembly in the report:

1. Continuance of the state recreation commission, with an expanded service as rapidly as possible to meet the local needs.

2. Active assistance by the state to local communities in acquiring adequate recreational facilities, in helping to set up programs that will promote youth welfare and prevent delinquency, and in carrying on a direct delinquency-prevention recreation program among the youth.

3. Appropriation by the legislature of state funds for grants to local jurisdictions on a matching basis to develop recreation facilities on a basis of need.
